

Veltio is the leading consultancy for complex planning, supply chain and optimization challenges. Whether you are looking for a highly customized point solution or the implementation of an entirely new Planning and Supply Chain suite, our retail expertise and technical know-how is unrivalled. Our clients represent a wide range of retail companies, from tier-1 multinational corporations to smaller privately held companies, and range from grocery to fast fashion and specialty retailers across the globe.

At Veltio we pride ourselves on putting our customers first. Our approach is geared towards delivering lasting benefit for your company.

Founded in 2004, Veltio's executive team are all ex-Oracle (Retek) employees, highly respected retail and technology specialists who were intimately involved in the development and implementation of the Oracle Retail Planning, Forecasting and Optimization suite of products. This core leadership group drive the ethos and direction of the business and are supported by an experienced pool of business consultants, technical specialists and scientists based in North America, Europe and Russia. No matter who we work with, all our customers benefit from Veltio's truly incomparable perspective on retail planning and optimization, as well as our passion for continuous innovation in retail technology.

Πηγή: <http://www.veltio.com>